Censor Board meets after six years, members ask who's on film review panel

Amrita Nayak Dutta
New Delhi, September 10

AT A Central Board of Film Certification (CBFC) meeting after a six-year gap, members have requested a list of those who consistently headed Revising Committees in recent years to review films, The Indian Express has learnt.

Recent films that sparked a controversy, strategies for moving forward, and industry outreach programmes were also discussed at the virtual meeting, sources said. Within the CBFC framework, a Revising Committee is a panel that reviews a film if the producers or the board are unhappy with the Examining Committee's decision. An investigation by The Indian Express in September 2025 revealed that three board members had been heading most Revising Committees.

The 149th meeting of the CBFC, also known as the Censor Board, took place on August 29 — first after Shashi Shekhar Vempati took over as the CBFC chairperson. Under the Cinematograph (Certification) Rules 2024, the CBFC board must meet once every quarter. The 12-member board last met on August 31, 2019, and none of the members have been officially reappointed since 2017, even though their tenure was three years long. The board was last reconstituted on August 1, 2017.

According to sources, it was also discussed that the board should meet at least once quarterly, in accordance with the rules. The Cinematograph (Certification) Rules, 2024, notified in supersession of the Cinematograph (Certification) Rules, 1983, also came up for discussion. A request for clarification on the difference between age-based certification of 16 years and 18 years also came up.

The 2024 Rules introduced age-based certification categories by subdividing the existing UA category into three age-based categories — seven years (UA 7+), thirteen years (UA 13+), and sixteen years (UA 16+), instead of twelve years.

IAS officer gets BJP ticket to contest Nagaon bypoll days after vacating DC post

Express News Service
New Delhi, September 11

A WEEK after he resigned as Deputy Commissioner (DC) of Assam's Nagaon district, the BJP announced Devashish Sharma as its candidate for the Nagaon Lok Sabha by-poll next month.

On the nomination, BJP Assam spokesperson Rupam Goswami said, "Sharma is a good bureaucrat. Social service is ingrained in him. The BJP always supports these kinds of people. He likes being among the people and is liked and respected by all." An IAS officer from the 2011 Assam-Meghalaya cadre, Sharma was posted as DC Nagaon in June 2025. He is regarded as an approachable and fair administrator, and is popular across different communities in this sensitive district.

On September 3, Sharma took voluntary retirement from the service, and just days later, on September 8, joined the BJP. Congress had criticised the move, with its Dhubri MP Rakibul Hussain writing to the Election Commission of India requesting a review of decisions taken during Sharma's tenure.

Sharma did not respond to calls from The Indian Express.
